Forecast For Northern Ireland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 0400 on Monday 15 Mar 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Cloudy and wet in the west, brighter in the east.

Today:
A rather cloudy day with outbreaks of mainly light rain spreading east, however Down and Antrim will stay dry until the evening. Drier conditions with some late bright spells reach western parts towards dusk. Mainly light winds. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Tonight:
Rain clearing east and drier for a time but further rain spreading east later in the night. Cloud breaking in the west by dawn with a bright start to Tuesday. Minimum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tuesday:
Early rain soon clearing Tuesday then dry with sunny spells with strong northwesterly winds around the north coast easing. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
A cloudy outlook but some bright or sunny spells can be expected. Possibly a few drizzly outbreaks too. Light winds throughout.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.